

Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act Compliance

JOBZ! enables compliance with the requirements of the CPSIA (The Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act). This law requires manufacturers to label products intended for use by children to contain information that allows a consumer to determine who actually manufactured a product.

Suppose you are printing paper airplanes to be given to children as part of a fast food promotion. To be compliant with the CPSIA, a parent who is concerned about the lead content of the ink must be able to contact the printer of the product, so the paper airplane needs to have your information printed on it.

JOBZ! approaches this in the following way: A sales rep indicates that the job in question falls under the requirements of the law, which is done by clicking a button on the first of the SPEX screens. (If you wish, JOBZ! can be configured to require an answer to this question for every job, or it can be left as optional.)

If the CPSIA button is clicked "Y", then all of the job's paperwork (Request for Estimate, Proposal, Order Entry etc.) will contain a graphic that highlights this requirement, and a line of text is appended to the specifications to the effect that this job must be compliant with the CPSIA.

Job Title	CAD#	Project	Name	Unite
Paper Airplane	629
Description			Work Type
Example of a job designed to be used by children.			Commercial
Note	Is product intended primarily for children 12 and under?			<input checked="" type="radio"/> Y <input type="radio"/> N
On this job, the CPSIA button is clicked, so that the job paperwork will highlight the need for compliance.

Clicking Y results in the CPSIA logo appearing on the job paperwork, and the phrase below added to the specifications.

Product is intended primarily for children 12 & under. CPSIA statement on product required.
